LILLILU DESIGN

Things to Consider

When designing an outdoor living space in a multi-unit building it is important to consider the following:

Maintenance

Weather

Storage

Comfort

Longevity

Lighting

GREENERY, INTIMATE SPACES, DRAMATIC LIGHTING

Rooftop Landscape

Consider the idea of adding height and dimension while creating intimate spaces within the large open area. A place to read, converse, entertain, play games, eat dinner, and enjoy a cocktail or two. Intimate spaces accommodate a multi-use function.

Another important feature element is greenery. Include natural and organic details including plants, small potted trees, and flowers.

Finally, lighting is key. Subtle up lighting or under stair lighting complete this comfortable, intimate and inviting space.
